MOVE TO HARTFORD MARKS SIGNIFICANT EXPANSION FOR CANTOR COLBURN LLP

Hartford, CT – Cantor Colburn LLP, a national, full service intellectual property firm of 90 attorneys and patent professionals, marks significant expansion and milestones in 2007: moving its Connecticut office from suburban Bloomfield to a landmark building in downtown Hartford; opening a new office in Washington, D.C. located just minutes from the US Patent and Trademark Office; doubling the size of the attorneys and staff in the Atlanta office; as well as hiring in Hartford, Washington, D.C., and Detroit. New clients and new business from existing clients have fueled Cantor Colburn's tremendous growth.

Move to Downtown Hartford

Cantor Colburn's Connecticut office has just opened its doors in downtown Hartford. The firm occupies 50,000 square feet of completely remodeled space on the 21st and 22nd floors at 20 Church Street, the newly refurbished landmark "Stilts" building.

"The move is important because it will allow us to bring clients to an attractive and dynamic setting," said Mike Cantor, Cantor Colburn's Managing Partner along with Phil Colburn. "By bringing the 150 professionals who work for Cantor Colburn's Connecticut office to the heart of downtown Hartford, we are supporting the city's downtown revival."

Substantial Client Growth

Cantor Colburn's new clients in 2007 include Cannondale Bicycle Corporation, MySpace.com, Mattel, Georgia Pacific, and Service Master, among others. Significant new work from existing clients like IBM, BIC Corporation, SABIC Innovative Plastics, (formerly GE Plastics), and Samsung, among others, has driven Cantor Colburn's substantial expansion.

"Our Connecticut workforce has grown by 40% this year to meet our clients' needs, so we needed more office space for everyone to work efficiently. Being downtown will help us continue to attract and recruit young lawyers who want to work in a lively area with great restaurants, arts and events." Colburn added. "And now we're close to law firms in the city that we work with."
