Cantor Colburn LLP Sponsors the Connecticut Invention Convention Saturday, May 14, 2011 at Gampel Pavilion

Hartford, Conn.— Cantor Colburn is a Gold Sponsor of the Connecticut Invention Convention (CIC), a state-wide invention contest for Connecticut's school-aged children to be held on Saturday, May 14, 2011 at the Gampel Pavilion, at UConn, Storrs.

"We're proud that our sponsorship supports a program that demonstrates that science and technology are exciting and fun, and have a meaningful connection to a stronger innovation-based workforce in Connecticut," said Charlie O'Brien, a partner at Cantor Colburn and a member of the CIC board of directors.

The Connecticut Invention Convention (CIC) is an award winning, internationally recognized, 501(c)(3) nonprofit educational organization begun in 1984 for K-8 students statewide. Local teachers are trained to provide hands-on instruction using CIC's STEM-based and standards-linked curriculum. Students then research, design, and solve their real-life problems by building a working product. CIC promotes discovery learning and workforce-related skills while nurturing STEM subjects and entrepreneurship in an age appropriate way. CIC is the longest continuously operating program of this kind in the nation. Its mission is "every child, in every school, an inventor once, better twice."
