

INADMISSIBLE

William J. Cass

Hartford-based Cantor Colburn partner and Litigation Department co-chair William J. Cass was an invited speaker at the White House Symposium on Additive Manufacturing last month, where he addressed intellectual property issues in additive manufacturing technology. Cass' practice areas include intellectual property litigation, products liability litigation and patents.

