

Connecticut LawTribune

NOVEMBER 28, 2011
VOL. 37 • NO. 48

An ALM Publication

CTLAWTRIBUNE.COM

Contributed Photos

The Cantor Colburn LLP /CCAT/First Niagara Innovation & Entrepreneurship Summit took place last month in New Haven. Innovation Pipeline Awards were presented to five emerging technology companies judged to have an outstanding product or service in development or already in the marketplace. Cantor Colburn LLP, has sponsored the awards since they were launched in 2007 by the Connecticut Technology Council. Pictured, from left: Matthew Nemerson, president and CEO of the council; Charles O'Brien, partner at Cantor Colburn; and Chris Kalish, board chairman of the council.