

Leah Reimer Named to Top 250 Women in IP 2019

Leah Reimer

Hartford, Conn. – Cantor Colburn LLP is pleased to announce that Leah M. Reimer, Ph.D., Esq. has been named one of the Top 250 Women in IP for 2019 by Managing Intellectual Property. This honor recognizes women IP practitioners in private practice who have performed exceptionally for their clients and firms in the past year. Dr. Reimer has been selected every year since the award was created in 2016. Dr. Reimer provides Fortune 50 and other technology-based companies with sophisticated, creative solutions to complex legal and technical issues. Her counsel is fully supported by the knowledge and experience gained through her Ph.D. in organic chemistry from Stanford University, her work as a research chemist at Eli Lilly and DowElanco, and her success as an intellectual property attorney.

Dr. Reimer's patent prosecution practice is focused primarily on polymer and materials science; pharmaceuticals and pharmaceutical formulation; agricultural chemicals and their formulation; nanotechnology; and metallurgy and ceramics. She teaches Advanced Patent Law at the University of Connecticut School of Law and is a frequent speaker on emerging areas of patent law. She was a Connecticut Technology Council Women of Innovation finalist and a Woman of the Law High Achiever (Connecticut Law Tribune).
